1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

No prior art of record or combination thereof teaches a high-voltage transformer comprising a core having a central axis; a bobbin with a hole for holding the core and at least three winding grooves arranged along the central axis of the core; primary coils wound around outermost winding grooves among the winding grooves; and a secondary coil wound around a winding groove other than the outermost winding grooves, the secondary coil being connected to diodes at both ends; wherein the winding grooves near the center of the core are deeper than the winding grooves located near both ends of the core.

Closest related art found was Japanese Patent Number JP 04022110A to Takeuchi, et al.

Takeuchi, et al, discloses a transformer with winding grooves about a central axis, however, the winding grooves are deeper at an end part and shallow at a central part.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee.

Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
